

Trick OR Treat?

A Halloween Safety Quiz for Your Family

Moms, here are a few safety questions to review with your kids to keep your Halloween night from turning scary. See how many you both can answer.

Trick = False
Treat = True

You should walk, stalk, slither or sneak only on sidewalks on Halloween night.

Trick OR Treat?

Before going up to a house, you should always check that it has Halloween decorations.

Trick OR Treat?

If there's a Jack O'lantern on the porch you should avoid going to that house because the candle might light your costume on fire.

Trick OR Treat?

You got a yummy, crunchy chocolate at the first house and you're hungry! But your sister says to wait until you get home to eat it.

Trick OR Treat?

Everyone should get their own flashlight on Halloween.

Trick OR Treat?

The best way to have fun on Halloween is to stay out as late as possible and get as much candy as you can!

ANSWERS

1. Treat! (True) Sidewalks are best. Be sure also to cross the street only at marked intersections and look both ways for cars or errant broomsticks.
2. Trick! (False) Although Halloween decorations are fun, the most important thing to look for is a well-lit home with the front porch light on. Most people turn the light on to say "come visit" and turn it off to say, "not now."

3. Trick! (False) Although it is smart to avoid candles, you don't have to avoid the house altogether. If the front porch is well-lit, watch your step and your costume when approaching the door and steer clear of the lighted Jack O'Lantern.
4. Treat! (True) Sis is right. You should always wait until you get home to eat anything so that your parents can help you inspect snack before you head out instead.

5. Treat! (True) Everyone should see and be seen for safety, so a flashlight is essential. It's also a good idea to attach reflective tape to your costume to make sure drivers can see you.
6. Trick! (False) The best way to have fun on Halloween is to stay safe and go with a group, following safety rules.
